Only Three Races to Be Decided This Week

GRAND ISLE There will be only three contested races to be decided as county voters prepare for their town meetings which will be held early next week in all towns in the county except Isle La Motte.

In what most political observers feel is the hardest race to predict, Arthur Goodrich, Myra Gordon and J. Daniel Wright are matched for the Grand Isle selectman's seat being vacated by Loris Parizo, who did not seek re-election.

In the only other contests in which there are races, Michael Mack and incumbent Horace Corbin are opposed for one of the two seats on the South Hero School Board, while Larry Roy and Marcia Frechette are seeking the other school board position in that town.

There are no contested races in Alburg, while North Hero does not use the Australian Ballot System. Isle La Motte voters will hold their town meeting a week late, due to a mix-up in the warning of the meeting.

With the lack of contests in so many areas, interest will be keenly centered on a variety of issues which will confront the voters.

Grand Isle County Sheriff John Lawrence has caused to be placed on the warnings of all five towns an article which if passed, would allow the towns to enter into contracts to provide additional law enforcement at a fee with the Sheriff and his department.

Another item facing Grand Isle voters would ban nuclear facilities, and transportation and storage of Nuclear Wastes in the Town. A similar item will appear on the warnings of some two dozen other Vermont towns.

In general, however, there are far fewer items of noticable community debate in the four towns which will vote next week and many town officers are afraid that turnouts at Town Meetings may reflect the lack of focal points in this years elections.

Alburg Treatment Facilities Resolution Passed in House

MONTPELIER The Vermont House of Representatives and State Senate passed a Resolution last week concerning the building of water pollution control facilities in Alburg.

The resolution, which gained the full support of both branches of the legislature read:

Whereas, the Federal Water Pollution Control Act requires municipalities of the nation to provide water pollution control facilities capable of meeting adopted water quality standards and provides a grant to support such activities, and

Whereas, the Vermont water pollution control program also requires municipalities to provide water pollution control facilities to meet water quality standards and provides a grant to support such facilities, and

Whereas, Vermont's system of priority for allocation of grants places heavy emphasis on those facilities required to control discharges to enclosed bodies of water, and

Whereas, the requirements of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act have caused the Town of Alburg to expend approximately ten months in the conduct of planning activities, infiltration analyses and the processing of grant applications, and

Whereas, this project has been in planning stages almost nine years already, meaning that certain waters have been unavailable for recreational use for this period, now therefor be it RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

You Can't Take it With You To Be Presented Feb. 25-26

SOUTH HERO The South Hero Players present "You Can't Take It With You", a hilarious comedy in three acts by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. After we realize the Sycamore family is mad (fireworks are manufactured in the basement, the printing press is in the parlor, [EDITORS NOTE: What in heck is so dag blamed "MAD" about having a printing press in the parlor???], a zany maid has her boyfriend, and Grandpa doesn't believe in income taxes [ED. NOTE: Are you sure these folks are mad???], the rest of the world looks even madder. Into this crazy family comes a young man and his strait-laced parents who are converted to their happy madness during an interview with an ex-Grand Duchess who works as a waitress. Sound nuts? It's a lot of fun and good family entertainment.

The play runs February 25th and 26th at the Folsom School Gym in South Hero. Curtain is at 7:30p.m. Tickets are $2 for adults, $1 for students and children five and under are free. They are available at the school office, Branch's Store and South Hero Grocery. Proceeds will benefit the South Hero PTO Classroom Fund.

Islander Will Cover Spring Training Camps

GRAND ISLE The Islander has finalized its plans to send a reporter to the Florida training camps of several of the major league baseball teams.

At present, arrangements have been finalized for visits to the training camps of the Minnesota Twins, Detroit Tigers, Houston Astros and New York Mets. Hopefully up to six other clubs will be added to the list of camps to be visited.

Anyone with particular questions that they would like to have answered by their favorite players should send the questions to Islander Sports Dept., P.O. Box 136, North Hero, Vt.

Tracy Joins Islander Staff

GRAND ISLE Nancy S. Tracy of South Hero has been added to the sales staff of The Islander.

Mrs. Tracy will be handling accounts throughout Grand Isle County. Anyone wishing to contact Nancy is regards to advertising may call her at 372-4539.

Dear Phil,

Ethnic jokes have been with us for a long time and the Scandinavians have had their share, often being portrayed as "dumb", but there is nothing dumb about the Norwegian system of training children to survive in our automotive world as the following will attest:

Children lead dangerous lives in today's motorized world. Each year the number who die in traffic accidents rises, except in Scandinavian countries, where a simple program has resulted in a sharp decline in child fatalities.

In Norway, for example 50% fewer pre-school children have died since child traffic clubs were started 10 years ago. These clubs enroll children on their third birthday for four years. The clubs teach children proper traffic behavior: to look both ways for oncoming cars before crossing the street, never to cross the street against the light, never to walk outside pedestrian crosswalks, etc.

The clubs also provide parents with instruction booklets on what and how to teach their children. Parents are warned that they must set a proper example for their children in traffic behavior.

The system works. Prof. Per Schioldborg of Oslo studied the traffic behavior of children. The club members were 45% more cautious without adults than were non-members.

The State of Vermont and the other states could adopt this system. It could be taught in kindergarten. Too often we hear of children darting from two parked cars into oncoming traffic and being killed. Children with knowledge of traffic would know better.

I hope that this system is adopted in this country and the number of fatalities cut down drastically among children.

PUSH BUTTON CONTROL
FLOW CONTROL MODEL

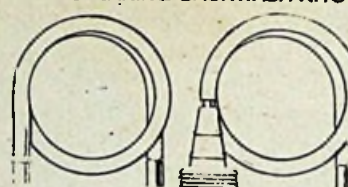

The Hurley is a 6 stage, hermetically sealed system which triple cleans and polishes the water. It is a multi-purpose appliance made especially for the home: for all drinking and cooking needs, for better coffee and teas, tastier soups, sweeter juices, baby's formulas and nursery water. Clear, hard ice cubes, for prettier house plants, for complexion care, shampooing and rinsing. It is bottled water without the bottles.

Using its own tap pressure, water is forced into the tank, hits a baffle which spreads it evenly as it is pushed up through the 6 cleansing or "scrubbing" stations. Pollutants are imprisoned in the intricate pore structure as the water is forced along a tortuous path through the deep carbon bed and through millions of tiny pores in multi-filtering media. Particle retention and fluid cleaning capabilities have led to results never before possible in a popular priced unit.

No installation chore. No plumbing or electricity. Complete instructions come with unit. No refills to buy - ever.

EASY CLEANING BACKWASH KITS

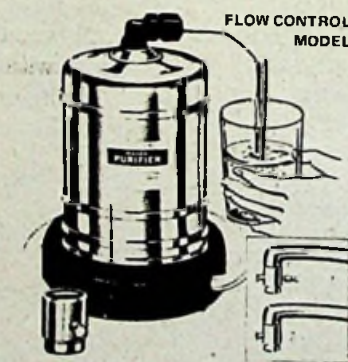

To use your backwash kit: Disconnect the filler hose from the faucet and lay in the sink. Connect the backwash hose to the same place on the faucet.

Insert the round metal plug into the outlet spout. Open the Hot water faucet and let the water run - backwards - through the Hurley. Use water 145 degrees or hotter. Backwash every 7 days for 20 minutes. This will cleanse and pasteurize the inside, and prevent any bacteria re-growth.

If your unit has been stored away for 10 days or longer, at room temperature, backwash for 30 minutes with hot water 145 degrees or hotter.

After backwashing re-connect the filler hose and let the unit run for 2 minutes to flush out any remaining backwash water. Run for 2 minutes before each use to flush out any stale water and assure getting good, clean fresh water.

Regular backwashing helps preserve the efficiency of the filtering media.

The FLOW CONTROL model can be converted to a travel model. A white rubber Fits All faucet connector is included in each carton.

LABORATORY TESTED

SPOUT CAN BE TURNED

DRAIN AFTER EACH USE.
Let filler hose lay in sink for two minutes. This will prevent storing a tank of stale water and will also be a partial backwashing.

DIMENSIONS:
11 in. High, 6 1/2 in. wide. Weight: 5 lbs.

CHLORINE REMOVAL
It is estimated that the Hurley will completely remove the chlorine for 10 years and/or 10,000 gallons.

HOW THE HURLEY MAKES BOTTLED WATER

When the molecules of undesirable chlorine or dissolved organic wastes to be removed approach the activated carbon surface, they are attracted to these energy sites and are trapped. Adsorption occurs. The surface area of the carbon granules' porous interstructure is highly important. The greater the total surface area the more individual carbon items are exposed and available as adsorption sites. Thus, the greater the capacity.

Adsorption will continue over a long period of time, unless the absorbers become coated with slime filtered out of the water. These absorbers can be kept clean and functioning by frequent backwashing of the unit. A backwashing kit for easy cleaning is provided with each purifier.

The average diameter of an actual carbon pore is 0.2 millionths of an inch. The Hurley uses 2 pounds of high grade activated carbon contained in an area 6 inches deep and 5 inches in diameter which provides about the same surface area as a 300 acre farm.

Here is a cross section of a carbon granule enlarged to show its intricate pore structure and also showing how undesirable molecules are trapped.

The excellent particle retention and cleaning abilities of the Hurley can provide micro-organism food which might contribute to the biological growth or re-growth of bacteria. Backwashing every 7 days for 20 minutes with hot water 145 degrees or hotter cleans better and also pasteurizes bacteria re-growth - if any.

BACKWASH WITH PURIFIED WATER

Water purification is generally completed within the first three inches of the six inch carbon bed. A three inch reserve bed has been provided to rid raw polluted tap water used in backwashing of its impurities so that cleansing will be done with purified water.

GUARANTEE:
ONE YEAR ON PARTS AND/OR
WORKMANSHIP. A GUARANTEE IS ENCLOSED WITH EACH PURIFIER.

WHAT FLOW CONTROL MEANS

Its primary function is to restrict the flow of the water to 25 gallons per hour to provide the needed residency time and/or to assure excellent adsorption and particle removal as the water goes through the unit.

Its secondary function is to prevent the activated carbon bed, which is a great mechanical filter and scavenger, from becoming a grinding machine. Without FLOW CONTROL high water velocity, due to attrition, could push entrapped dirt and filth completely through your unit and out into your pitcher.

The FLOW CONTROL and the BACKWASH KIT are exclusive features which have made the popularly priced Hurley the choice of scientific and medical people everywhere.

RURAL HOMES

Where household water systems do not have a chlorine feeder or the wells have not been chlorinated, it is suggested that the daily supply of drinking water be drawn early in the morning from the hot water tap and put in bottles for chilling.

The overnight holding time of 4 or 5 hours or more in the hot water tank with the water at 145 degrees will have destroyed the coliform bacteria. You can verify this fact by submitting a sample to your County Health Officer for coliform testing.

HURLEY TRAVEL MODEL

The white rubber Fits-All will make connections with all or any type faucets, laundryroom, bathroom, kitchen or on the camper.

When operated on a tap that is opened 1/5 of the way - or less - producing a pencil stream, the unit will work best. This slow stream will also provide the residency time the water needs in going through the filtering bed.

PLEASE NOTE - The Fits-All will only withstand about 2 or 3 pounds of back pressure and if you open the tap too wide it will blow off of the tap. Slow and easy is the only way it is supposed to work.

With the exception of the manner in which it fits on to the faucet, all other features are the same as in the FLOW CONTROL models.

Legislative Report

By Rep. John Curran

MONTPELIER As was mentioned in a previous legislative report, roll call votes are becoming increasingly popular here at the State House.

This past week we had two, one on the ever controversial poll tax; and yet another on the bill to ban phosphates in detergents.

Since legislative sentiment strongly favored imposition of a ban, the demand for a costly and time consuming roll call vote seemed an exercise in sheer futility. Never-the-less, the roll call vote was taken and happily, the phosphate ban carried by a lop-sided 139-6.

The bill yet faces trouble in the senate where it was defeated during the last session. Opposition to the outright phosphate ban stems largely from legislators representing Vermont's "North-east Kingdom". However, voter concern in that area has grown and pressure is being put on lawmakers from the kingdom to support the ban since the lakes and streams in that area are also dying from raw phosphates being poured into them.

We were faced next with the disposition of the ever troublesome poll tax. Debate on this issue was lengthy and, at times, heated, and centered on outright repeal vs. local option for retention.

As one long in favor of local control, and wary of spreading State intrusion on the community level, I voted with the majority to leave the decision where I believe it properly belongs - to the discretion of the voters on the local level.

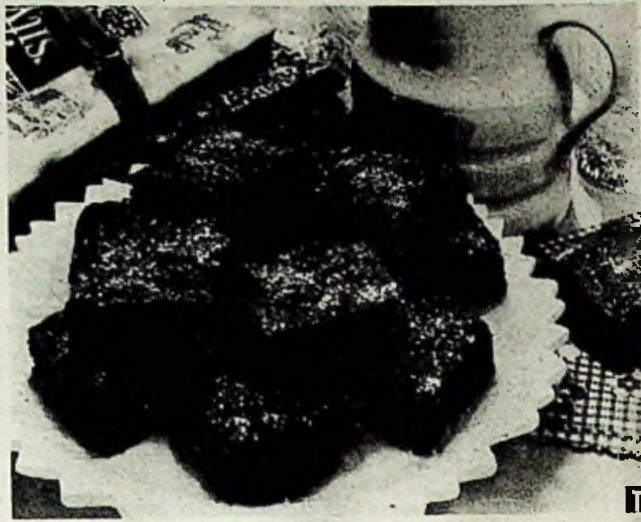

Last week during the day long joint session when we voted for judges and trustees for UVM; and moving around in many recesses while votes were interminably counted, I literally ran head-on into Republican Senator William Doyle, of Washington County. He told me I could expect 100 copies of the now popularly known, "Doyle Questionnaire" to distribute at our town meeting.

I told him how well attended our town meeting was and that 100 copies was skimpy and that I could use more than he offered. Hopefully, I can wangle more out of Senator Doyle.

The questionnaire in the past; addressing questions on what primarily concerns Vermonters has been a most valuable indicator of how we feel about problems both local and state-wide.

Regardless how many questionnaires are distributed at our town meeting (and at other town meetings in the district), I hope you will fill them out and send them along to Sen. Doyle. Frankly, in the past they have been revealing in mirroring our immediate concerns as Vermonters.

THIS BROWNI-EST BROWNIE IS DELICATELY SPICED

Chocolate brownies are an American invention and loved from coast to coast. This recipe makes a rich, "fudgy" treat, fragrant with cinnamon to enhance the chocolate flavor. As a bonus, it's very easily made.

CINNAMON BROWNIES

- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
- 4 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1-1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a medium saucepan melt butter and chocolate over very low heat. Remove from heat; stir in sugar and eggs; set aside. In a medium bowl combine flour, cinnamon, baking powder, salt and orange peel. Stir into chocolate mixture just until smooth and well blended. Stir in nuts. Spread in a greased 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350°F.) until mixture starts to come away from sides of pan, about 30 minutes. Cool slightly on a wire rack. Cut into squares; remove from pan and cool completely. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar, if desired. Yield: About 30 brownies.

4-H Poster Contest

NORTH HERO The 1977 National 4-H Poster Art Program will again be sponsored this year by the National 4-H Council. Vermont will select 3 posters to be included in the National exhibit. Posters from Vermont not selected for National competition will be displayed at State 4-H Day in Barre. Details of the poster contest are available from County Agent Bob White. Deadline for entries is June 10th and any 4-H member may submit a poster.

THE EATING O' THE GREEN

Call it legend, superstition or just plain blarney but the belief is that good luck will follow throughout the year if you eat something green on March seventeen. For dessert, bring on the clay pipes and a tray of Killarney Cordials. Made with JELL-O® Lime Gelatin and mint extract, it's a light, flavorful dessert that's destined to bring good luck to the table. If you prefer, you may substitute creme de menthe liqueur for the mint extract.

KILLARNEY CORDIALS

- 1 package (3 oz.) lime flavor gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup cold water
- 1/8 teaspoon mint extract

*Or use 2 tablespoons creme de menthe liqueur.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and extract. Measure 1/4 cup gelatin mixture; let stand at room temperature about 30 minutes or until thickened. Pour about 1/4 cup of the remaining gelatin into each of 8 large cordial or small wine glasses. Chill 30 to 40 minutes. Beat the measured gelatin with hand beater or electric mixer until mixture is fluffy and thick and about double in volume. Spoon about 1 tablespoon into each glass over clear gelatin. Chill. Makes about 2-1/2 cups or 8 servings.

Making Brown Sugar At Home

Making your own brown sugar is simple to do and costs about 15 percent less than the store bought kind.

1. Commercial brown sugar is commonly made by blending molasses with white sugar crystals. All you need to make your own is unsulphured molasses and white sugar.

2. For the equivalent of one-half cup brown sugar, blend one-half cup granulated sugar with two tablespoons unsulphured molasses.

3. In recipes calling for brown sugar to be mixed with several other ingredients, just add the molasses and sugar separately. There is no need to pre-blend the sugar and molasses.

4. Although homemade brown sugar can be stored for brief periods in a plastic bag, it's best to make it as you need it.

5. Unsulphured molasses, such as Grandma's Molasses, works better than sulphured or blackstrap molasses because it's sweeter and contains no sulphur dioxide.

6. In some baking recipes you can also substitute unsulphured molasses for white sugar, but you should reduce the liquid by one-fourth cup for each cup of sugar called for.

Alburg Prepares For Mardi Gras Dance

ALBURG The Mardi Gras Dance Committee has been active in planning for a costume ball, which will take place on Tuesday, February 22nd from 9p.m. to 1a.m. at the Alburg Fire Station.

The evening will be modeled on the New Orleans Mardi Gras Celebration and will feature the music of Justin Bluto and friends, along with the One Man Band. Square dance and country-jazz numbers will be a highpoint of the evening which is being sponsored by local townspeople for the benefit of the newly erected skating rink.

Local youngsters have volunteered their services as waiters, hosts and hostesses for the evening. Advance ticket sales have been good and a large crowd is expected at the B.Y.O.B. affair.

New Number for Dentist

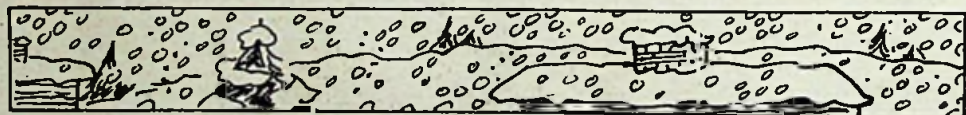

ALBURG The Champlain Islands Health Center would like to inform all Grand Isle County residents that beginning on Tuesday, February 22nd, all dental appointments with Gregory Arnold, D.M.D. should be made by calling 796-3259.

Dr. Arnold is presently offering complete dental services to all county residents with an office in the Alburg Elementary School. By early spring it is anticipated that he will be having regular office hours in the new Health Center in Grand Isle as well as continuing in Alburg.

Florence Langlois, who has operated the Grand Isle Information Service in North Hero, will now be located in Dr. Arnold's office Alburg and will be continuing her services through the same phone number.

Fishing Derby

ALBURG The Lake Champlain Islands Chamber of Commerce 1st Annual Fishing Derby will be held on February 27th from 8a.m. to 3p.m. at the State Fishing Access Area, 2 miles north of the Alburg-North Hero Bridge on U.S. rt. 2. The new entry fees are $2 per person and $3.50 per family. Some $105 dollars in Cash Prizes will be awarded.

The word winter comes from an old Germanic word meaning "time of water"—of rain and snow.

FREE BOOKLETS

Three brand new booklets, filled with a variety of projects, good ideas and information to help make life at home fun and easy-going, are available free on a write-laundry, children's clothing, and closets. The "K2r® Stain Dial" is an invaluable guide to home-makers. It's an easy-to-use dial which provides the right in basis.

The first booklet, "Crafty Critters," offers ideas and tells how a variety of toys and crafts can be made from the empty plastic bottles in which different household cleaners are packaged. The booklet provides directions for projects that make great after-school or rainy day diversions for youngsters, and the objects made are suitable for gift-giving as well as for year-round use.

"Creative Homemaking," offers a variety of helpful homemaking hints using different household cleaners, ranging from time- and money-saving tips to suitcase-packing advice to decorating ideas. Specific subjects include pots and pans, gardening equipment, information for removing 56 different types of spots and stains from dry cleanable fabrics. By following the stain dial tips, you may even be able to cut down on expensive dry cleaning bills.

To receive your free copies of any or all of these booklets, write to: Consumer Relations Dept., Box N; Texize Chemicals Co.; P.O. Box 368; Greenville, SC 29602.

FOOLPROOF FOOD FOR PART-TIME COOKS: THE IMPATIENT MALE GOURMET

EXOTIC SHRIMP AND VEGETABLES

Sooner or later the sophisticated bachelor is going to want to do some impressive home entertaining—and that includes a super delectable meal which will impress the guest without depressing the host by forcing him to spend most of the day preparing this grand extravaganza. Efficiency in meal planning and preparation has definite appeal to all part-time cooks, particularly the hardworking man who must use his few free moments to maximum advantage.

Here is an ideal menu for a small, intimate dinner for two. Not only does it have definite gourmet appeal, but it supplies good nutrition at reasonable cost—and all this for a very small expenditure of time. The menu has been checked by the Carnation Laboratories; it provides a good nutritional balance of foods from the basic four food groups (proteins, dairy foods, grains, fruits and vegetables) plus sufficient vitamins and minerals.

Exotic Shrimp and Vegetables are the impressive entree. Cook this dish in mere minutes, either in a large skillet or in a Chinese wok. For maximum effect, however, the true gourmet will go with the wok...and dazzle his dinner guest with a casual display of his stir-fry technique. In successive stages of a few minutes each, the cook stir-fries finely cut vegetables, shrimp, water chestnuts and peas. Lastly add a marvelous seasoned sauce and cornstarch mixture plus the bright warmth of Contadina stewed tomatoes, let simmer for another few minutes...and the entree is ready to serve, on a bed of hot cooked rice.

The grand finale to this efficient extravaganza is a dessert which should be prepared ahead of time to allow time for chilling (at least two hours): Individual Souffle Cheesecakes. Make these the foolproof way with a crumb crust, and make them the low-calorie way with instant nonfat dry milk crystals. The lemony lightness of this rich tasting dessert is a perfect complement to the entree. The whole meal is so quick and easy to prepare, it can be the stand-by gourmet menu for any part-time cook.

- (Makes about 4 cups)
- 1/2 pound medium raw shrimp
 - 1 3/4 cups (14 1/2-ounce can) Contadina Stewed Tomatoes
 - 1 tablespoon dry sherry
 - 1 tablespoon soy sauce
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - Few grains pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 2 tablespoons oil
 - 1 crushed small garlic clove
 - 1/3 cup minced green onion
 - 1/2 cup thin, diagonal celery slices
 - 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
 - 6-ounce package frozen Chinese pea pods
 - Hot cooked white rice

Shell and devein shrimp. Rinse under cold water and dry. Drain tomatoes; reserve juice. Combine tomato juice, sherry, soy sauce, salt, pepper, ground ginger and cornstarch. Mix thoroughly. Heat oil in Chinese wok or large skillet. Stir-fry garlic, green onion and celery for 2 minutes. Push to sides of wok. Add shrimp; stir-fry until shrimp is pink and tender. Add water chestnuts and pea pods. Stir-fry 2 minutes. Stir in cornstarch mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Reduce heat. Add tomatoes. Cover wok; simmer 2-3 minutes. Serve at once over hot cooked rice.

INDIVIDUAL SOUFFLE CHEESECAKE

(Makes 2 cheesecakes)
CRUMB CRUST:

- 1/4 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon melted butter

Combine all ingredients in small bowl. Spoon half into each of two 3-inch (2/3 cup) souffle dishes. Press on bottom and up sides with straight sided glass. Make 3-inch collar for each souffle dish by folding piece of aluminum foil, wrapping it around dish and taping it in place.

FILLING:

- 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup water
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- Few grains salt
- 1 package (3 ounces) softened cream cheese
- 1/4 cup liquid Carnation Instant Nonfat Milk
- 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1/4 cup Carnation Instant Nonfat Dry Milk crystals
- 1/4 cup ice water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Soften gelatin in water in small saucepan. Stir in sugar and salt. Heat over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat. Beat cream cheese and liquid instant milk in small mixer bowl until smooth. Add gelatin mixture; beat until blended. Stir in lemon rind. Chill until mixture mounds from spoon. Combine instant milk crystals and ice water in small mixer bowl. Beat at high speed until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add lemon juice. Continue beating until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer). Fold whipped instant into gelatin mixture. Spoon into souffle dishes. Chill at least 2 hours before serving. To serve, remove foil collars and garnish with thin lemon slices.

APPLESAUCE AND ECONOMICS

Most cooks claim limited knowledge of economics. But in supermarkets today it's quite apparent there are money saving strategies afoot that will impress the savviest economist. To wit: many shoppers use shopping lists. Some clutch supermarket ads with appealing bargains studiously checked. More consumers are reading labels and checking unit pricing. And thrifty consumers buy in quantity when the price merits.

Among the bargains this time of year are canned applesauce, sliced apples and other apple products. Apple juice, cider, baked apples, spiced apple rings, crab apples are original convenience foods as they can be served straight from the jar or can. Most apple products may be used as ingredients, too, in meat, salad, breads and a host of dessert recipes. There's a variety of container sizes to fit every family need, so it's practical to buy apple products in quantity when the price is right. Look for bargains in frozen foods too: apple juice concentrate, pies and a host of desserts ready to thaw and serve are available the year around.

Applesauce Cottage Cheese Salad makes an appropriate main dish for lunch or supper. Make it in a ring mold, fill the center with another salad, such as chicken, ham, turkey or fresh fruit. Serve on a bed of greens with assorted hot rolls and a few relishes and you have a nutritious meal that's different and very appealing.

APPLESAUCE COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

Makes 1-6 cups ring mold

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup cold milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- Grated rind of 1 lemon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups smooth applesauce
- 3 cups (1-1/2 pounds) cottage cheese

1 cup (1/2 pint) sour cream
In a saucepan, mix gelatin and milk. Add sugar and lemon rind. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. In a bowl, mix nutmeg, salt, applesauce, cottage cheese and sour cream. Stir in gelatin mixture. Pour mixture into a lightly oiled 6 cup ring mold. Chill until firm. To unmold, dip mold into lukewarm water for a few seconds. Tap to loosen salad and garnish top of ring mold with thin slices of unpeeled apple dipped in lemon juice. Chill until ready to serve.

GRAND ISLE On Tuesday, Feb. 16th Mark "Grampa" Horican spoke to the pupils at Thayer School in Burlington. His topic concerned the history of sheep raising in Vermont. He spoke about the economic history of sheep raising, the woolen mills, the contribution of Vermont Merino sheep to Australia, etc. He also told about his own raising and marketing of wool and lambs. "Grampa" has raised sheep for 65 years, having started when he was 12 years old. The pupils of Thayer School have been spending two weeks learning about wool and weaving and an artisan has been in residence. Everyone asked many questions and enjoyed talking with "Grampa".

Robert Goodrich was taken to the Medical center early Wednesday morning by ambulance.

Are you remembering the Grand Isle Fireman's supper next Saturday night?

Another reminder about the DAV organizational meeting to be held Thursday evening at the Hitching post. All DAVs are invited to attend.

The Fireside Circle Extension Homemakers Club met Thursday evening with Eleanor Goodrich.

Following the business meeting the evening was spent poring over old pictures, maps and other memorabilia. The next meeting will be March 17th at the home of Barb Abare. At that time each member will give a paper on some phase of Grand Isle's past. Mrs. Ruth Rousseau of Grand Isle was a guest of the club at the February meeting.

There will be a Round and Square Dance at South Hero's Folsom School on March 5th with Mike Dion and the Kountry Kool Kats playing from 9p.m. to 1a.m. Tickets are $5 per couple and are available from Ethelyn Dubuque at 372-6648, Sandy Roy at 372-4263 and Pat Brennan at 372-4566. This is a B.Y.O.B. affair and ice will be available. Proceeds will benefit the South Hero PTO Classroom Fund.

The Kountry Kool Kats will also be playing at the Grand Isle School on March 19th at the dinner-dance to benefit the Grand Isle School's 8th grade class. Cost is $10 per couple, which includes the dance and a turkey dinner. Reservations for this B.Y.O.B. affair must be made by March 15th. To make them call either the Old Creamery Store, 372-4060; Bev Baker at 372-4285 or Claudia Bourgeois at 372-5040.

Among those who participated in the Ski-a-Thon held at Trapp's Lodge in Stowe on Sunday, February 13th were Jay Beurmann, Connie Crevelling and Michelle Toth, all of South Hero, all members of the I-H Ski Group. They were accompanied by their leader June Zettlemeyer. Among them they accumulated 40 kilometers of sponsored skiing for the benefit of the Discovery Museum in Essex Junction. While there they received lessons in skiing and waxing by the United States Biathlon Team. They were served hot soup and sandwiches while on the trails. Congratulations to some more of our great young folks!

At the last meeting of the Grand Isle PTO the final choice of the stage curtains was made. They will be a plaid which will blend with any color the gym might be painted. The gym will be undergoing a restoration this spring when the leaking windows will be taken out and the whole interior will be re-painted in light and dark gold. Linda Watson is chairing a committee to plan a pot luck supper meeting for the next time. Money was donated to the Vt. Youth Symphony Orchestra at the last meeting and Dr. Gregory Arnold was introduced and spoke on the Dental Health Program in the county. A lively question and answer period followed his speech.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris have returned from the beautiful Carribean where they spent several days.

The Ladie's group of the United Church in Grand Isle held their February meeting with Mrs. Dora Caswell last Thursday afternoon.

Cathleen Cary has been detained from teaching at South Hero's Folsom School because of illness.

JoAnn Potter of Grand Isle is practice teaching in Mrs. Toth's class at Folsom School.

We have been asked to remind residents of North Hero that there are currently vacancies on the Board of Adjustment in that Town. Any resident of the town who would like to serve on the Board of Adjustment should contact Mr. Jack Little as soon as possible.

The February meeting of the South Hero PTO will be held on Thursday, February 24th at 7:30p.m. in the Folsom School Gym. The meeting will be a forum for discussion of the Report of the Study Committee. Fred Branch, Committee chairman, and the four sub-committee chairmen will be available to discuss the Report and to answer all questions about it. The Report is about the elementary school, how it's working, and how South Hero tax dollars are being spent, and recommendations for change. The Report will be available February 22nd at the Town Clerk's Office and at the meeting. Copies are limited and you may want to read it thoroughly before the meeting so please pick one up early.

The South Hero PTO will hold a food sale during Town Meeting Day. Grinders, soup and crackers, sandwiches, coffee and baked goods will be for sale. Proceeds will benefit basketball awards and the Boy Scouts Flag Fund. It's all homemade, so plan to stop for lunch and snacks.

According to Grand Isle Town Clerk Fay Chamberlin the 1976 Grand Isle Town Report has been mailed to all legal voters of the Town of Grand Isle. Extra copies are available at the Town Clerk's Office for any legal voters or tax payers of the Town.

Also, anyone expecting to be necessarily absent on Tuesday, March 1st, may vote at the Grand Isle Town Clerk's office until noon on Saturday, February 26th.

Fay also wishes to remind everyone the the Town and School District meeting will be at the school on Monday, Feb. 28th at 7:30p.m. Voting by Australian Ballot will be held on Tuesday, March 1st from 10a.m. to 7p.m. at the Town Office Building.

There will be a Fellowship Supper at the United Methodist Church in Grand Isle on February 25th at 6:30p.m.

The Grand Isle County Health Council will meet on February 24th at 7p.m. at the North Hero Town Office Building.

Anyone having a darkroom enlarger that they would donate or loan to the South Hero School is asked to call either the school at 372-6600 or Bret Corbin at 372-6603.

The South Hero Congregational Church is planning to have a shop to sell handcrafted articles at part of the Allenholm Farm Market from July 1st to part of August. The proposed shop would be open seven afternoons a week. Men and women to work on hand made articles for sale are needed to help in this project for the Congregational Church Building Fund. If you are interested contact either Judy Allen, Nancy Allen, Charles MacBride, Pam Duval, Ruth Fifield, Thea Hill or Myrtle Jacoby.

Another original Vermonter has returned to the Green Mountain State, and his future depends on how we treat him. Some down-country folks find it hard to believe that the wild turkey has returned to Vermont. Still more shudder with skepticism when they hear we have held four spring gobbler hunting seasons and two either-sex turkey hunting seasons in the fall.

Back in 1853, noted naturalist Zadock Thompson, in his book "Natural History of Vermont" wrote "The Wild Turkey, which was formerly common throughout our whole country, has every where diminished with the advancement of the settlements, and is now become exceeding rare in all parts of New England, and indeed in all the Eastern parts of the United States. A few of them, however, continue still to visit and breed upon the mountains in the southern part of the state."

Turkeys continued to decline in Vermont. In the late 1800's their habitat had been virtually destroyed with only 30 percent of the state still covered by forest. Loss of habitat and unregulated hunting finished the last of the big birds.

After about 100 years and changes in land use, Vermont's wildlife habitat looks a lot different. Farmland abandonment resulted in the forest taking over the early pastures that covered all but the most remote and steep terrain. The state is now about 75 percent covered by forest, and most of the trees are "pole-stage" or older. Turkeys do best in a nearly mature forest.

People at the Fish and Game Department could see in the late 1960's that turkeys might again be able to make it in Vermont. They also knew Vermont had been as far north as turkeys ranged historically. It was obvious that if any birds were to be stocked they would have to be from the hardiest strain available. Wild eastern turkeys were doing well in Pennsylvania and western New York.

A total of 31 wild turkeys were live trapped by Vermont game biologist Bill Drake in western New York and transferred to southwestern Vermont in 1969 and 1970. The birds did better than expected. Their population expanded quickly, and the first spring gobbler season was held in 1973. The total turkey population is now estimated to be somewhere between four and six thousand birds.

Vermont turkeys have recently been trapped with cannon-nets and shipped to New Jersey, New Hampshire and Maine, as well as being transported to the southwestern part of our own state and the Bennington area. New York and Massachusetts are no doubt also benefitting from our turkey population expansion with birds having no regard for state boundaries. Turkeys are already being reported in the vicinity of Lake George in New York.

With all the success of Vermont's turkey program, it wouldn't seem likely that a potential threat to the population's health could still exist. Yet, the Fish and Game people are concerned that the flock would be damaged, at least on a local scale, if private citizens stocked game farm strain turkeys. Some people with good intentions have already contacted the Fish and Game Department according to Jeff Wallin, the biologist working on turkeys. Jeff says these people usually want to purchase young game farm turkeys outside the state and stock them here with the idea of helping the local population. He has to explain to them that they would do a lot more harm than good.

Actual wild turkeys do not fare well in captivity. They possess a well developed nervous system, a large brain, and large endocrine glands which give them a rapid metabolism. In short, they are biologically geared for life in the wild where survival depends on alertness and vigor.

Game farm turkeys certainly look like wild birds, but all of the game farm strains carry some domestic blood out of necessity to make them amenable to captivity. The domestic bird allegedly has a smaller brain, small endocrine glands and slower metabolism.

A lot of states have tried stocking game farm turkeys over the past 30 years, but their efforts have proven fruitless and in some cases damaging to actual wild populations. The problem lies in the fact that the progeny of a game farm turkey - wild turkey cross just do not fare well in the wild. They still carry enough domestic genes to leave them inadequately equipped for survival. The game farm birds genetically pollute the wild strain and reduce chances of any turkeys surviving.

Jeff Wallin hopes that if more people understand the wild turkey and recognize the harm that could be done by stocking game farm birds, he won't have to worry about good-intentioned efforts jeopardizing the future of the flock.

State Horticultural Meeting

MIDDLEBURY Fruit Growers are invited to attend the 81st annual meeting of the State Horticultural Society and apple growers conference at the Middlebury Inn to be held on Thursday, February 24th starting at 10a.m.

The program consists of the business meeting, a trade show and speakers on several aspects of fruit production and an evening buffet supper. All fruit growers and interested persons are invited to attend.

Scholarships Available

NORTH HERO National Home Economics Scholarships are available to anyone graduating from high school this year and having an interest in home economics. The applicant must be sponsored by their high school Home Economics teacher.

The objective of the awards is to stimulate interest in Home Economics in High School and to motivate high school students to pursue this area of study in college thereby bringing recognition and prestige to the Home Economics profession.

Information and applications are available at the County Extension Office in North Hero.

Dairy Marketing Seminar

BRATTLEBORO County Agents and others interested in dairy marketing will be attending a dairy marketing seminar to be held on March 2nd and 3rd in Brattleboro.

Subjects for discussion include the marketing picture for dairy products, retail marketing, cooperative milk marketing and marketing problems facing U.S.M. Dairymen. The group will also tour Idelnot dairy's modern milk processing plant. Fred Webster, milk marketing specialist in the agricultural economics Department at U.V.M. is planning the Seminar.

Typewriters Needed

GRAND ISLE For the past few weeks, twenty students who have enrolled in CCV's Grand Isle Learning Group have been working out curriculum plans. The group is involved mainly in studies of psychology and literature, with individualized studies ranging through such subjects as Physics, Stock-Raising, Medical Terminology, Signs for the Deaf, Mathematics, Art, and others. Students are pursuing both personal and career goals.

However, one major obstacle has surfaced. The most frequent request has been for a course in typing, which would satisfy the needs of advanced and beginning students with both personal and career goals, but nowhere in the Islands is there a schoolroom with typewriters for this purpose. To get around that, the course is being set up in an innovative manner that will combine elements of both classroom and home-study. A teacher has been found and the typing course was set to begin by March 1st.

Unfortunately, it may not ever begin, as three of the six prospective students still lack access to typewriters for practice. Standard typewriter rental fees, which average $35 per month for electric machines and $15 for manual, are above the means of both the college and the students. Federal Financial Aid to Vermont State College students is not given in amounts that would cover these costs.

For these reasons, the group is appealing to residents who may have a machine that is not currently in use, to loan it to a student for the months of March, April and May. All machines will be returned clean and in good condition. Anyone who may be able to sponsor a student in this way is asked to call 372-5142, 372-5574 or 372-5184, as soon as possible. Your help will be very much appreciated.

Joseph Dixon—A Remarkable Man

The next time you travel by train, use a pencil, ride in a tunnel or use a camera, you will have been affected by the life's work of a remarkable man who was born almost 200 years ago.

His name was Joseph Dixon (1797-1869). He was a chemist, metallurgist, mechanic, scientist and humanitarian—an unusual early American whose work had a profound influence on all of us. While he is remembered chiefly for having perfected graphite crucible (with which he was to assist in raising the melting of metals from the status of a handicraft to that of an industry) and for his work in graphite and pencils, Dixon also experimented successfully in many fields beyond those in which he manufactured.

He perfected destructible inks for use in tinting the paper on which bank notes were to be printed, for the prevention of counterfeiting.

He built the first American locomotive with double drive wheels and a double crank—the double crank so his engine would not stop on "center" and would permit starting up at all times.

He collaborated with Samuel F. B. Morse, whom he showed how to take camera portraits by means of a reflector so the image would not appear reversed. Morse was successful in his attempt to patent the reflector in England and made

Lenten Observances to Begin Ash Wednesday

By Rev. Philip J. Branon

SOUTH HERO Christians throughout the world will begin their Lenten Observance on Ash Wednesday (February 23), 40 days before Easter. It is a time of preparation for the Central Mystery of Christianity, the Death and Resurrection of Jesus Christ. During Lent, Christians are asked to remind themselves daily of their own need to make reparation for their sins. Christ's death and resurrection brought about our salvation, but we must join ourselves to his suffering, death and resurrection in order to achieve salvation.

To help us implement our obligation of penance and reparation for sin, the Catholic Church stipulates minimum requirements of Penance for the Lenten season. For the benefit of all our people, the Lenten Regulations for Catholics are printed herein:

Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are days of abstinence from meat and also days of fast, that is, only one full meal is allowed.

The other Fridays of Lent are days of abstinence from meat.

The obligation to abstain from meat commences at 14 years of age.

The obligation to fast commences at 21 years of age and ends at 59 years of age.

On the two Lenten days of fast, Ash Wednesday and Good Friday, only one full meal is allowed. Two other meatless meals, sufficient to maintain strength, may be taken according to one's needs, but together they should not equal another full meal.

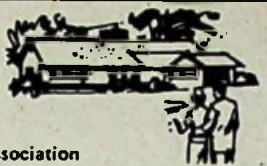

Although the faithful enjoy freedom in conscience to excuse themselves for a just cause from these mitigated laws of fast and abstinence, the obligation to do penance is a serious one and no Catholic should lightly excuse himself from so hallowed an obligation in the Lenten season.

Estate Taxes Change

NORTH HERO Both Federal and State gift and estate tax laws were changed starting in 1977. These changes are important to anyone planning their estates or to make gifts. Verle Highaboom, Extension Economist at UVM is very familiar with the recent legislation and will hold a county meeting if there is interest. If you are interested in such a meeting contact the county Extension Service Office in North Hero.

LAND TITLE INSURANCE

One of the most frequently misunderstood subjects in real estate is land title insurance. Here are a few basic questions and answers that will help better acquaint you with this form of protection.

What is title insurance? Title insurance guarantees who owns a piece of real estate and what limitations there are on that ownership. If others subsequently claim an interest in that property, or if the owner is sued on a matter insured against, the title insurer will take care of the claim or defend the suit. There are two kinds of policies: a mortgage policy which protects the lender's interest in the property and owner's title insurance, which protects the owner.

How does title insurance protect? Title insurance is based on a comprehensive search and examination of the public records for matters affecting real estate ownership. If problems are found in the search, they are pointed out so they can be cleared up by the present owner in advance of a sale or mortgage. This type of preventive work by the title company minimizes the chance that the buyer or investor will experience loss from land title hazards. But in addition to determining the status of title from public records, title insurance affords protection against certain losses that even the most diligent search of those records will fail to uncover. Examples are forgeries, errors in recording legal documents, fraud, undisclosed or missing heirs, etc. Also, the title insurance company will pay for defending against an attack on a title as insured even if it is unfounded—and will perfect the title if it is defective or pay for loss or damage suffered by the insured.

Who pays for title insurance? In a number of states the seller pays for and provides an owner's policy to his buyer. In other states, the buyer pays for his own owner's policy. In all states, the borrower pays for the lender's policy. Incidentally, the charge for owner's title insurance is substantially reduced when it is obtained at the same time as lender's coverage.

How long does title insurance coverage last? For a one-time charge, owner's title insurance coverage lasts for as long as the insured (or his heirs or devisees) owns the property. It will even protect the insured after he has sold. In most jurisdictions, sellers convey real estate by warranty deed in which certain representations are made to the buyer. If these are incorrect, the seller may be subject to a suit based on his warranties. If these were matters covered by his owner's title policy, the insured will be defended and he is protected from loss or damage caused by the breach of warranty. Lender's title insurance coverage lasts until the insured loan is repaid.

Do title insurers ever have losses? Yes. For example, in 1975, over $57 million was paid out by title insurers as a result of title claims. Even this amount represents a lower loss ratio than some forms of insurance because of heavy emphasis in the title industry on loss prevention. That is, title insurers spend well over 80 per cent of their operating income in order to keep losses for the insured at a minimum—through careful search and examination of title records. The resulting loss experience is the major reason that title insurance premiums can be kept so low.

Maple Course Offered

JOHNSON Small scale production of Maple Sap and Syrup will be the subject of a special one day course offered by the Community College of Vermont to be held on Saturday, February 26th from 9a.m.-4p.m. at Johnson State College. The workshop will provide technical and practical information on how to select trees for tapping, the methods of gathering sap and the syrup making process. Emphasis will be placed on low cost procedures to produce a uniform product of high quality for home consumption. A lecture will be followed by an outdoor session so participants are warned to dress accordingly.

Instructor for the course, which has a $6 tuition fee, is David Marvin. Marvin is a graduate forester and has been involved in the research programs of U.V.M.'s Proctor Maple Research Farm and the U.S. Forest Service Maple Laboratory. He is owner of Butternut Mt. Farm in Johnson and is himself a maple producer. In addition, he provides consulting services to the Maple Industry.

Registration for this and other CCV offerings will be on February 15th at the Folsom School in South Hero from 1-4p.m. and at the Alburg Elementary School from 5-8p.m., as well as at the Extension Office in North Hero.

45 Attend Crops Meeting

grand isle The latest information on forage crop production was presented to about 45 county dairymen at the crops meeting held at the Hitching Post Restaurant in Grand Isle on Tuesday, February 15th.

Phil Gagnon, Area Sales Representative from Agway conducted the meeting. Slides were shown of the Agway Research Farm in Fabius, N.Y. and County Agent Bob White spoke on the need for soil tests and forage testing in a complete roughage program. Frank Genova, Agway crop specialist covered a variety of crop practices in growing corn and alfalfa. Steve Kelsey, of CIAB Giegy Company was on hand to discuss complete weed control in forage crops and George MacCollum, Extension Entomologist at U.V.M. spoke on the insect and disease control problems in corn and alfalfa.

A fine lunch was served compliments of the commercial companies and literature on roughage production was available to those attending.

Forum on Abenaki Rights

BURLINGTON A public forum on Abenaki Indian hunting and fishing rights will be held at the University of Vermont on Saturday, Feb. 26, at 2p.m. in Benedict Auditorium, Marsh Life Sciences Building.

The panel for the forum will consist of members of the Vermont Abenaki tribal council, Chief Walter Watso of all the Abenakis from Odanak, and a member of the Beconcour Band Council. Dr. William A. Haviland, chairman of the Anthropology Department, will moderate.

The panel will respond to questions from the sponsors, as well as questions from the floor. The public is invited to attend and participate. A 50 cent donation will be asked at the door. For more information, call 656-3884.

Herd Health Conference

GEORGIA The Herd Health Conference on Feb. 25 will be held at the Georgia Elementary School on Route 7 beginning at 9:45a.m.

The conference is open to the general public for a small registration fee, although it will be of special interest to dairymen. Participants will meet with nutrition specialists and a veterinarian to discuss feeding, management and disease prevention in dairy animals.

The program is sponsored by the Extension Services of Vermont and New Hampshire and will also be offered at the Middlebury Union High School on February 24th, as well as in Concord and Bath, New Hampshire.

Diabetes Screening

GRAND ISLE The Champlain Islands Health Center plans to continue working with the Alburg Lions Club and the Vermont Diabetes Association to offer free diabetes testing to high risk county residents on the first Friday of each month. The testing will now include a simple eye examination to rule out the presence of glaucoma.

The following persons are encouraged to accept the free testing: Those with a family history of diabetes, those over 39 years of age, those who are overweight and women who have had babies with a birth weight of nine pounds or over. The program is not designed for known diabetics.

Testing will be offered Friday, March 4th from 1-2p.m. at the Health Center in Grand Isle. People planning on being tested, should try to eat a high carbohydrate (starch and sugar), 1½ to 2 hours before the time of the test.

Appointments are preferred but walk-ins will be accepted. To make an appointment, please call the Health Center at 372-4687.

Eastern Breeders Annual Meeting Feb. 22

GRAND ISLE The Grand Isle Membership Unit of Eastern Artificial Insemination Cooperative will be holding its Annual Meeting on February 22nd at the Hitching Post Restaurant starting at 11a.m.

According to Advisory Council Chairman Henry Robinson of South Hero election of Member Representatives, Delegate Reports, and presentation of various Herd Production Awards are on the Agenda.

A feature of the program will be a family style ham dinner with all the fixings.

There will also be a slide show depicting the first 10 years of the organization.

Also serving on the Unit Advisory Council are Armand Blow of South Hero, Charles Cameron of Grand Isle, Fred Lane of South Hero, Roger Rainville of North Hero and Robert Boumil of Alburg.

Presentations will also be made by Eastern District Director Don Fay of Jericho and Area Manager Merrill LaClaire of Morgan on the operation and progress of the Cooperative which provided service for nearly 640,000 cows in 26,000 member herds in the Northeast last year.

Technician for the Grand Isle Unit is John Quinton of North Hero.

Consumer Board to Meet

NORTH HERO The Grand Isle Health Council Consumer Advisory Board will meet on Tuesday, February 22nd at the home of Eleanor Zehle in North Hero. Once again, 7p.m. is the time of the meeting.

Mastare BFA Winner

ST. ALBANS Mike Mashtare of Alburg and Cindy Wilson of St. Albans, garbed as BFA Bobwhites, were proclaimed winners in the Green and Gold competition, the final phase of Spirit Week at the school, which came to a close Friday with a huge rally in the school gymnasium. Tied for first place with these was Joanne Dupuis, a sophomore, who was disguised as a Love Bug.

Second place was shared by Kathy Ford, who paraded about school all day in the guise of a "Green and Gold Goblin", and Sue Laroche, who portrayed a BFA seal.

Honorable mention went to Kim Ouellette as Peter Pan; Amy Lennington as a Green and Gold Nut and Kayla Larry who was a Green and Gold Dill.

The Senior Class was proclaimed winner in the poster contest, with the juniors grabbing second place.

clothing Exchange Continues At. St. Rose of Lima

SOUTH HERO For some time now, used clothing and other articles have been available at St. Rose of Lima Church Hall. For the past several weeks, there has been a rummage sale at the Flea Markets. Between times, people are welcome to call the Rectory for an appointment to select clothing.

For the most part, items are not marked and prices are not charged, though donations are welcome. Those who have good, usable clothing are encouraged to bring it to the Church Hall. Clothing should be usable and clean. This "clothing exchange" is a service to the community on the part of St. Rose of Lima Parish and is not limited to the church's Catholic parishioners.

The next Rummage Sale and Flea Market at the Church Hall is scheduled for Sunday, February 27th.

ETV HIGHLIGHTS

WINOOSKI Ian McKellen, regarded by many as the finest young actor in British theatre, stars in Edward II, Christopher Marlowe's gripping drama of violence and homosexual passion. See it on CLASSIC THEATRE at 9p.m. Thursday.

At 7:30p.m. Thursday VERMONT REPORT's "Woman" miniseries continue with an entry called "The Cinderella Syndrome". Issues relating to mental and physical health, and such issues as rape, battered wives, and the Supreme Court decision on pregnancy benefits are considered.

VERMONT REPORT Friday at 7:30p.m. is the regular bi-weekly "Canadian Report". As part of the series on women, a guest expert will examine a recent Canadian study that showed the gap between men's and women's wages widening.

The role of the black churches in America's rich cultural heritage is detailed in a special called THIS FAR BY FAITH at 9p.m. Saturday the 26th. The evolution starts on the African continent, and continues through the era of slavery and into the 20th century. Brock Peters narrates and is joined by noted black artists.

Andre Previn, new musical director of the Pittsburgh Symphony, leads the orchestra through an eight-week series of discussions and demonstrations on a variety of topics. In "Mozart as Keyboard Prodigy," the opener, Previn is also pianist. To be aired, Sunday, February 27th at 8p.m.

CHILDHOOD, at 10p.m. Sunday, presents H. E. Bates' story "Great Day for Bonzo." Three children playing in a deserted barn meet a mysterious stranger who gives them his dog Bonzo.

Monday at 7:30p.m. the UVM Hockey Catamounts entertain the Terriers of Boston University at Burlington, Jack Barry is play-by-play announcer. Last year Vermont beat the then undefeated, and number 1 nationally rated Terriers by a 5-2 score.

Comedian Mark Russell promises a flock of new jokes and satirical songs about the Carter administration in this month's MARK RUSSELL COMEDY SPECIAL at 10:30p.m. Monday.

In the fifth and final entry in VERMONT REPORT's "Women" series, Rosalyn Oakes, a Vermont professional making it on her own, talks about how a woman can cope without a husband. The show is aired Tuesday, the 1st at 7:30p.m.

This month's CONSUMER HOTLINE is subtitled "Your Own Home; The impossible Dream." A panel consisting of an architect, a realtor, and a banker answer your questions about shopping for and paying for a house at 8p.m. on Tuesday. See article this issue.

Wednesday at 8p.m. NOVA presents "Bye, Bye Blackbird", a partly humorous partly serious, story of man against pest birds.

See LIV ULLMANN WITH DICK CAVETT at 10p.m. Wednesday. The lovely Scandinavian actress, now performing in America, talks about Ingmar Bergman, "Scenes from a Marriage," and her new autobiography.

Vt. Women's Town Meeting Feb. 26

MONTPELIER The Vt. Women's Town Meeting will be held in Montpelier at 8:30a.m. on February 26th. A bus will be leaving from the OEO office in St. Albans and anyone withing to be aboard should call either 527-7392 or 527-7397. A Day care center will be provided for children. Workshops at the Town Meeting will include "The Homemaker", "The Single Parent", "Education", "The Older Woman" and many others.

For further information contact Nancy Tracy at 372-4539.
